Hi Laurie,

Here is another one that I need you help with Paula Schmittziel is needing Upper Animas site id rather than the Upper Cement id added into PPL. Her email isn't working so I told her I would send you and email and cc her. I will also have to call her once it's done so she can have the site id and apply it to her travel authorization.

Thank you

Christine – my supervisor just advised me that I should be charging my time to the Upper Animas code rather than the Upper Cement Creek code. Can you enter that code into my PPL also? Thank you.

Paula, FYI. Once we can get back into PeoplePlus, the beginning of this fiscal year might be a good time to start charging to the Upper Animas code rather than the Upper Cement Creek code.

Richard: should I be charging time to Upper Animas, or is Upper Cement Creek OK, as long as I consistently charge my time to it. I did not know there was a Upper Animas account.

I agree, the State should be using their ASARCO funds to participate in the site. Once our limited Standard Metals special account is expended, it will be difficult to secure regional pipe line funding for a non NPL site.

Mike – I don't charge to Upper Cement Creek, I only charge to the Upper Animas site. Also, since we have now expanded our focus to the larger site, I think the State should look to finding a way to use the ASARCO funds to participate in the collaborative process at this Site.

I believe the State is requesting funding for general participation in Upper Cement Creek, and are considering it in support of the ongoing PA work, since the site is not listed, and seems to be in a holding pattern in the PA phase, if that makes sense.

We are using the UPPER CEMENT CREEK - HAZARD RANKING DETERMINATION - SITEWIDE -, which is the coding PA/SI uses in People Plus.

I will leave that for Mike to answer. Do I need to coordinate a phone call with the State?

We have our removal program doing SI work in upper cement creek already, so why does the State need to do a PA?

That State has requested funding through a cooperative agreement for work at the Upper Cement Creek site. Russ wants to use Special Account funds (Standard Metals settlement money). I am writing to find out if there are any restrictions on the use of that money. The amount requested is $25,000 and the planned activity is Preliminary Assessment
